John Madigan, a former Irontonian, now living in Leadwood, St. Francois county, was in Ironton Sunday. John says that in all the years he has been living in the lead belt business has not been as good as it is now. He has more work than he can do and more than he can get men to help him do.

County Superintendent Hanson announces that the Teachers' Meeting will be held in July, as usual, but he has decided not to hold the School Board Convention until some time in August. The practice heretofore has been to hold the convention immediately following the Teachers' Meeting.

Dr. W. G. Patton of State Hospital No. 4 returned the last of the week from Cape Girardeau, where he attended the annual meeting of the Southeast Missouri Medical Society, before which he read a paper. The Doctor reports a good attendance and a splendid meeting. — Farmington Times.

The subscriptions for oiling Main street total $301. An order has been placed for 70,000 gallons at 5c a gallon. The same oil last year cost 3 1/2 cents a gallon. Messrs. Mann Ringo, Wm. Trauernicht and J. L. Baldwin have made special contributions to the fund to have oil placed on Knob street in front of their residences.

Dr. and Mrs. Milford Riggs, of Ironton, spent a few days the first of the week here. The Dr. was looking after business interests and Mrs. Riggs came especially to attend the reception given by the D. A. R. of which chapter she is a member. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Mayberry. — Farmington News.

Elsewhere is printed a couple of items from the Lewistown, Montana, Democrat-News, telling of the death and burial of J. E. Pinkley, formerly of this county. They indicate the high esteem in which the deceased was held in his western home. Mr. Pinkley left Iron county 24 years ago to make his home in Montana.

Mr. H. R. Taylor informs us that the tie-drive down East Fork will be landed near Lesterville Saturday. With this drive landed he will have all the ties off of the small streams and about the 1st of June will start one of the big drives. It is estimated that the Moss Tie Company now has 150,000 cross ties stacked along Black river, West Fork and Middle Fork. — Centerville Outlook.

A telegram was received in Ironton last Wednesday announcing the death in St. Louis that morning of Mrs. Ella Chambers, nee Haller. The deceased was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nathan H. Haller and was born and reared in Ironton. Death is said to have come suddenly and resulted from throat trouble. Three young sons mourn her demise. Interment was made in St. Louis.

State Auditor Gordon has not yet registered the $15,000 high school bonds voted in the recent election in the Ironton school district. A letter from the Auditor says that the Attorney General has been asked for an opinion as to whether the failure of the board to provide a polling place in Arcadia invalidates the election or not. The Attorney General is expected to pass on the matter this week.

Attorney General John T. Barker made a tip-top Democratic speech in front of the courthouse last Saturday afternoon. While the attendance was not large the speaker was given close attention and his remarks frequently and heartily applauded. Mr. Barker was followed by Hon. O. L. Munger, candidate for Congress, who, in a few minutes' talk acquitted himself in his usually impressive and creditable manner.

Deputy Sheriff Wm. Blue returned from the west end of the county Sunday evening, having in custody Myrtle Chandler, a young woman about twenty years of age, who was indicted by the late grand jury for violation of the local option law. The girl lives near Bixby with her father, Willis Chandler, who has often been in court charged with the illegal sale of liquor. Her case will come up for disposition at the adjourned term of circuit court June 5th.

During the delinquent tax sales at the recent term of circuit court there was purchased a Murdock-Crumb tract of 20 acres, situated about two miles south of town. An inspection of the land has revealed that, at least, $500 worth of timber has been cut thereon—and that probably within the past year. Stolen, of course. Every bit of it! And this stealing is not, by any means, all done by some poor devil who is hungry. Some fellows who hold their heads pretty high are most guilty.

Farmington News: "Edward Robb, of Perryville, who served this District four successive terms in Congress, and O. L. Munger, of Piedmont, have both been spending part of the past week in Farmington and other parts of St. Francois county, trying to knock a few holes in Congressman Hensley's political fence. Wednesday night Mr. Munger was billed to make an address at the court house, but the desired crowd failed to materialize. Mr. Robb claims to have the local anti-Hensley support pretty well lined up and it looks to us like that is about the situation. Congressman Hensley is busy at Washington, but it is likely that he will soon find time to spend a few days at home repairing what gaps may have been made by his opponents. Some at least of the local opposition to Congressman Hensley's re-nomination is reported to be the result of the post office scrap that occurred here a few months ago."

At a meeting of the Ironton School Board Tuesday of last week the following teachers were re-employed for the ensuing year: Prof. R. Shoop, superintendent; Misses Savannah Duval, Mabel Fields, Alma Kendal, Ethel Vaughn, and Miss Nannie Ringo for Arcadia. W. J. Martin was re-elected teacher of the colored school. Another meeting of the board was held Monday night of this week. Miss Martha Shotwell, a graduate of the State University, was chosen to the place at present filled by Miss Slater, and Miss Orpha Davis was named as primary teacher to succeed Mrs. Nellie Dewey. This leaves but one teacher to be employed, the position of principal of the grades, at present filled by Mr. Hutchins. The tax levy was fixed at 93 cents cents on the $100 valuation for the ensuing year. The board estimates this levy will meet all expenses, pay the interest on the bonds for the proposed high school and provide for the retirement of a $1,000 bond each year.

A Birthday Surprise.

Last Sunday, just after the morning services at the Edgehill Union Church, about fifty friends assembled at the home of Dr. J. H. Martin, it being the twenty-eighth anniversary of Mrs. Martin's birth. Each one brought something in a basket, which proved to be good things to eat. Several gallons of fine strawberries, brought by Mrs. R. Hughes, and many other delicacies, contributed to one of the finest spreads you could imagine.

This had all been planned sometime ago and came as a complete surprise to Mrs. Martin.

Everybody had a pleasant time, and it made the Doctor and his wife feel that they were truly among friends.

A few of those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Price Goggin, Mr. and Mrs. R. Hughes and family, Mrs. M. A. Bell, Mr. Chas. Dennison and family, Mr. Ross Hughes and family, Mr. Noah Ayersman, Mr. Arthur Denison, Mr. Floyd Robinett, Brud Miner, Miss Pearl Gallaher, Miss Rosa Luenberger, Mr. John Luenberger, Miss Zula Hughes, and many others too numerous to mention.

A GUEST.

Death of D. D. Dille.

(The Bethany Clipper.)

Daniel Davis Dille, of whose serious illness we spoke last week, died at his home in Iron county, Mo., Wednesday, May 3, 1916. He was born in Henry county, Indiana, July 24, 1848, so at the time of his death was aged 67 years, 9 months and 19 days.

Mr. Dille was reared as a Quaker, but as there was no church organization of that creed here, while in Bethany he attended the Christian church, the church home of his companion.

Mr. Dille was the last of his father's family, his two sisters having died last summer, within five weeks of each other.

Mr. Dille was married May 24, 1877, to Miss Mary Amanda Carl, who survives him. No children were born to this union, but they reared Margaret Wilson, who is now married to Hugh Lotz, and lives in Iron county, Mo.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Dille lived five years in Indiana, then seventeen years on a farm four miles south of Bethany. Then they moved back to Indiana for about six months; from there to Pendleton, Ore., for a year, then back to Bethany to care for Mrs. Dille's parents. In June, 1910, they moved to Versailles, Mo., for a few months, and in September, 1910, he bought a farm near Ironton, Mo., at which place he lived until death.

Mr. Dille was well known in Bethany and Harrison county, and was justly of the peace for twelve years. He was very devoted to his invalid wife, as for several years Mrs. Dille was almost a helpless invalid.

He was a quiet, unassuming man, and as a neighbor we found him generous and kind. He was indeed a true Christian and in his tender human sympathies a loyal husband, a sympathetic friend, and the influence of his kindly character will long be a memory and an inspiration to those who knew and loved him best. All hearts go out in sympathy to the bereaved wife in her great affliction.

The remains were brought to Bethany Friday, accompanied by Mrs. Dille, also I. E. Nelson, who went to Ironton in response to a message announcing his serious illness.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mr. Nelson Saturday morning, conducted by Rev. L. H. Otto, and burial was at Antioch cemetery.

In March and April the Rockport Mutual Insurance Companies wrote over one million dollars of insurance on automobiles, buildings, towns and farm property, against fire, tornadoes, cyclones and hail. Agents wanted in every town in Missouri. Write H. F. Stapel, Secretary, Rockport, Mo.
